Happy Birthday Love

Dear Wifey,

Happy Birthday babe! So, finally, you're 25 now!

You will always be my first, no matter how many people come and go. I'm so grateful to God that we grew up together and that it never once felt like we were "cousins." You've always been my real sister.

Time has flown so fast.... From fighting over a pair of doll shoes to fighting for each other., from late-night horror stories to late-night gossip sessions, From cutting each other's hair to now giving each other hair care advice, from Barbie talks to bra-bhi talks we've grown through every phase together. We've shared laughter, tears, chaos, and comfort. And no matter how much you irritate me sometimes, I will always come back to you because you're my home. If you were a boy, I swear I would have married you in every life – like pure 7 janam wale vibes.... XD

I wish this year brings you everything you dream of your goals, your peace, your success, your money, your glow-up, and someone who loves you even more than I do. Until then, I'm still your temporary husband. I'll cross oceans for ur one smile! XOXO

"Me neither."
The boys lapsed into silence. They realized that conversation was dangerous. At any
